3.0 Requesting materials

- 3.1 Homebound customers have full access to library materials and services.
- 3.2 Requests may be made by mail, phone, e-mail, or through the Salt Lake County Library website.
- 3.3 The homebound patron is also given the option of being assigned a homebound book advisor who will regularly send materials selected to meet the patron's stated reading and viewing preferences.

4.0 Mailing items

- 4.1 Items are mailed at the library's expense via the United States Postal Service.
 - 4.1.1 A list of all materials checked out to the patron, along with their due dates is included.

5.0 Returning materials

- 5.1 Friends or family members of the homebound may return materials and mailbags to any Salt Lake County Library.
- 5.2 Returns may also be sent by mail using the return postage label included in each package.
 - 5.2.1 The library incurs the cost of the postage when the label is used.

6.0 Removing a Homebound Patron

- 6.1 Homebound cards are not transferable: they are for use only by the homebound patron who qualified for enrollment in the program.
- 6.2 Homebound cards are issued for mailing purposes only: they are not for use by the patron, family or friends inside the library.
- 6.3 Homebound cards are not considered permanent: program eligibility will be frequently reviewed and patrons who no longer qualify will have their borrower type set to 'resident' and all of the resident parameters will be applied.

Adopted by the Salt Lake County Library Board of Directors, April 27, 2009. Revised by the Salt Lake County Library Board of Directors, April 25, 2011.
